This image shows a blank sheet of lined paper, likely intended for handwriting practice. The page is white and features a series of horizontal lines. The top and bottom lines are solid black. Between these two solid lines, there are 18 horizontal dashed black lines, which serve as midlines for writing. The space between each pair of solid lines is filled with a light blue color, creating a series of 18 rows. The overall layout is clean and organized, typical of a notebook page.

This image shows a blank sheet of lined paper, likely intended for writing or drawing. The paper is white and features horizontal ruling lines. The lines are organized into rows, with a solid top line, a dashed midline, and a solid bottom line for each row. The paper is oriented vertically and is completely blank, with no text or markings.

This image shows a blank sheet of lined paper. The paper is light blue and features a solid black top border, a dashed black midline, and a solid black bottom border. The lines are evenly spaced and run horizontally across the page. There are 18 horizontal lines in total, including the top and bottom solid borders and the dashed midline. The paper is otherwise empty of any text or markings.

A blank sheet of white paper with horizontal ruling lines. The lines are evenly spaced and extend across the width of the page. The paper is oriented vertically. There are 21 horizontal lines in total, creating 20 equal-sized rectangular rows. The lines are thin and black, and the paper is otherwise completely blank.

This image shows a sheet of white paper with a grid of horizontal lines. The grid consists of 20 rows. Each row is defined by a solid light blue line at the top and a solid light blue line at the bottom. In the center of each row, there is a dashed black line, which serves as a midline. This layout is typical of primary-graded handwriting paper. The lines are evenly spaced and extend across the width of the page.
